ADDED VALUE

$125,000

We were worried about spending money to fix up our home before selling it. But there was some flooring that needed to be replaced and a few repairs that were needed to our bathrooms along with a few odds and ends. Getting these things done using the Compass Concierge program was so easy! Our house passed the buyers inspection with flying colors and we ended up selling for $125,000 more than what we originally wanted to list it for.
